I am a British software engineer and web developer currently living in Somerset, England.

In my career, I always want to create honest, well-designed bespoke applications, websites and emails. I use a variety of tools, frameworks and languages to achieve this goal. Attention to detail and forward-thinking are my specialities.

Software Engineer II, Sigma7. 2024–Present

Sigma7 provides risk services for an increasingly unpredictable world. Their platforms and products help customers to understand, manage and respond to their risk across the globe.

Currently, I am working as part of the engineering team at Sigma7 to build a suite of exciting new web applications which will expand the accessibility of their risk services through technology.

Software Engineer, Intelligence Fusion. 2021–2024

I was working to build exciting web applications for Intelligence Fusion which allowed greater access to the threat intelligence data reported internally by their intelligence analysts. I also helped develop background services as well as enhancing and increasing their API offering with additional features and enhancements.

Web Developer, Think Productive. 2020–2021

I rebuilt the customer-facing websites for all of Think Productive's global regions. I also created a bespoke, asynchronous learning platform for customers to continue their learning after having attended live sessions.

Web Developer, Opia. 2016–2020

I created websites and email marketing campaigns to incentivise customers to buy from some of the world's leading technology brands including Google, LG, Microsoft, HP, Dell, Samsung and many more.
